

I have been listening to XM radio for over a year now. I love my XM. It is even more helpful and appreciated with its addition to Instant Traffic and Weather. I am a commuting student, when the traffic and weather are bad in my area or in L.A it is imperative that I have access to that information. I don't believe it is of my interest to have to switch over to FM and wait 20-30 minutes for a station to update any situations that may hinder my travel. I pay for this kind of excellent service that XM provides. Do not strip me of my rights to listen to what I am paying for.

I also know that a myriad of Truckers around the country have XM in their Big Rigs. Think of the implications of removing this service from them will do to productivity across the nation. Millions of people subscribe to XM radio and do so for a valid reason, it is a valued service that none of us could or want to live without or have limited.
